The Four Month Challenge

Topic: Reactive Ego.

1/2/2007

Discussion Group.

Opportunity comes but once to lift the human condition past heavy energies, lesser energies, and as has just taken place a planetary lifting of greater proportions than has come for some time. This opportunity is now available to all. All have the potential now to shift up at astonishing speed if the heart and soul are in alignment, and focused upon the greater good.

Lesser energies begin from separation, a lack of recognition of the divine source all flow from. Love is the key. Lack of connection, the separation from the divine aspect is the downward path humanity now suffers.

This discussion group has offered to humanity the chance to shift and change by increments, and successfully too, but over the past 6 weeks dramatic shifts in energy have taken place, benefiting all upon the planet and beyond. It was, and is, a galactic shift in consciousness, powerful and giving all now the opportunity to render the reactive ego into a place of no influence.

To reach this point let us examine the joint relationships you each have, each one of you to each other as a microcosm. It is interesting yes, to see relationships? But you, each one of you are representative of humanity, and relationship problems, misunderstandings, judgment, anger, jealousy, ego, all disrupt the life flow. The eternal pathway of peace is placed into danger, each time you, each and every one of you, allow reactive ego to enter your framework of thinking. It is lower emotional contact, its separation from the divine spark, and as part of the greater scheme, you are representative of humanity and the underlying problems which eventuate when there are differences, judgment, and then animosity.

Love is the key we hear you say, and many times the words are misused. They are thrown around as a power source, to look serene and be granted regard in others eyes, and yet behind the scene so to speak darkness dwells. . . . Feelings that are not honouring your own path, or the divine path of light.

So we, the Hierarchy, felt it best to begin the discussion group by seeing that all are made aware of this, and to ease your way at looking at yourself. Really analyze who you are, and where reactive ego hits out at you. Look to see what are your trigger points which put you into a state open to nurture ego, and some suffer from this much more than others, but all have it, and judgment and separation all suffer, and as a core group this then is reflected in the whole.

This vast energy change which has just been completed, has opened the doorway for a cleansing of attitudes much more than any previous energy changes. This one will aid on monumental levels humanities ability to shift out of reactive ego, and out of pain of separation.

We give you this as a great gift of love for you, for if you can truly look at yourself truthfully and reconstruct yourself over the next four months to reflect your greater light, to that degree, so also will this be generated into the grid system, and open the doorway for humanity to pass into this new dimensional doorway where light so much brighter, resilient and clear will shine, but are you prepared to look at envy, judgment and proportional responses in such attitudes as hatred and bitterness?

You are wise indeed, powerful beyond all limits if you can do this, ignite within a new passageway to consume those greatest of all fears, of letting go of old thought patterns.

It is time to show the world a better face, a new pathway, and it will begin with each one of you looking within, and not just giving lip service to this, but to truly see I mean this and I am Machiventa Melchizedek, and I do issue you with this invitation.

Change your world for the better. See everyone you meet as divine, even in the lesser words, actions and directions. Let go of your preconceived ideas of who you think they are. Let the chips fall where they may so to speak, and face the fear of separation which divides all of humanity now into boxes of beliefs, some so rigid there appears to be no crack in the shell. For I tell you true, at this moment in human history there is greater opportunity for shifting the mass consciousness than ever before. This new energy flows now so softly, so sweetly into the cracks of defense systems, to bring down the walls of intolerance.

Rainbow is its light, softly, yet so very, very powerfully it pours now, no heart is exempt. All of humanity now enters this doorway of change, and they cannot hide.

This then is our invitation to you, to take the four month challenge.

Anyone you see, you speak to, everyone you see even on television, or in daily life from a distance, stop, look, listen to your heart and soul, and pause. Count to ten before you put your mouth into gear so to speak, without the heart connected. Stop judgment, also anger, resentment and jealousy and all lower emotions.

FOR FOUR MONTHS, BE CHRIST.

Really, really try to recreate yourself, and the world with you, and at the end of this four month challenge you will bare no resemblance to the person you are now. Take the four month challenge!

Stop before you react out of reactive ego, and always the ego hits back. Find your own trigger point, and then learn to switch it off. For no good comes from a pathway of lower energies.

I AM Machiventa Melchizedek, and I do invite all of humanity to utilize this vibrational frequency change to best advantage, for yourself yes, for more truly will you be divine when connected by the heart to all of humanity.

How can wars begin and be prolonged, if nations, all people were to recreate the world they live in.

Your part in this is more direct, you the discussion group and I now speak of all those discussion groups who have begun to form and flow from our guidance, can now take a more direct role.

Learn a new ABC.

This one is simple:

- A. Apply love as the filter to look through.
- B. Begin today step up, and let go of the old you.
- C. Create a new world with a course all can follow.

This ABC will serve you well.

May I explain to you how I see this discussion group beginning? Have a toast to change, and a common blessing that the year begin with hope, and that this chalice of hope be filled constantly, daily with a celebration of life, and a realization you are Divine, but so is every living creature upon this earth, and I mean all life. All life forms are Divine.

All are created from the divine spark, and therefore are of equal value. Human beings are no more holy than those living creatures with which you share this planet. So see the divinity for all life, and Mother Earth herself, and part of this new galactic shifting of energy is the remembrance of life as created by the Divine, and so all life is to be honoured.

Part of this energetic shifting is to aid planet earth, but all inhabitants to see it is not a divinely given grace to see wants, needs and greed as all important. Human consciousness now expands, to understand you stand up for and treasure this planet you call earth. Treasure her, not for the resources to be exploited, but to really treasure her, and regard the greed for resources as needing to change. Stop. Think when next you wish to fill empty days with more material possessions, bigger houses and greed. See that this is part of the problem, gluttony for resources, for wants. All is part of this shifting. As you open to who you are, be more responsive, more protective towards this living breathing planet, which now suffers from the false premise that whatever mankind does is ok. See the impacts your footprints make upon the earth.

Choose to make your time upon this planet as the Indian Nations have said, “Leave no footprint upon the earth in your walking”. It is a two edged sword so to speak. This new energy is one to awaken the masses to reactive ego, but also personal and national responsibility for the impact you make upon the earth.

What are your footprints going to show? Value for the self alone, exploitation of resources to provide for immediate wants, or will it be of this section of your life starting now you will say, “as I watch my words and deeds I will also honour all life, and change my ways from exploitation and greed.” Gluttony humanity largely suffers from now, while some have excess to appease empty lives, others, millions starve or suffer.

See this as ending. You are all equal, all part of this Divine plan, and what you do now in this four month period is very, very important.

Join an environmental group. Write letters to politicians, plant trees and try to educate by example, but see your life as divine. It was said that God said to mankind, go forth and multiply upon the earth and conquer it. I would say instead. “Take a gentle walk upon the earth. Watch your footprints lest they leave a permanent mark that all must pay for”.

Watch words, thoughts and deeds, and walk as the Indian Nations do so softly. For this new energy is above all things soft and gentle, but stronger than you can now perceive.

I AM Machiventa Melchizedek and I do say to you four months of really trying, is this so much to ask? The end result will be a better world and a planet less at risk, for no politician would be able to make short sighted decisions, if constantly being reminded they are there to serve, they are public servants and therefore the need for personal power and ego perpetuation will have to be surrendered for the greater good, that of planetary survival.

With blessings for your journey.

Lord Machiventa Melchizedek.
