

Sir Isaac Newton to the Group for July 2006

Walking With Angels. 7/07/2006 (Taken by VRC)

The spoken word has strength when given a purity of thought.

Given that this day there is a new energy at work spacing individuals, pulling apart the framework of Christ's love, we ask this a new framework be put in place. Letting go of the old out moded thought processes and flowing instead out of love. Love being the key to further growth and establishment of new focus inwards.

I AM Isaac Newton and I do say this is to all good intent, the workings of your minds will need to be free from judgment of any as you sift through facts, as you look at the deeper matters before you.

This discussion group finds its core, and this core group of individuals will with time increase to include others, thinkers, intellectuals yes, but also new members, those who have little knowledge of the subject matter studied and discussed to date, but we feel that with time they can and will contribute to this group and to the whole. The very necessary establishment of articles of interest is by nature of the need for growth an intrusion, but be very needed.

Knowledge is the key, but structuring your discussions in such a way to begin each night, where all have the ability to add their own words and interpretations as they see it. What we find necessary is this format for now, where we introduce questions each person answers in their own way, and then after a break the discussion flows freely with those with input to add, and their presentations take place. Each presenter will then have time to speak thereafter, this way all feel included.

The questions are these:

If there is one God, why do you personally feel there is so much division, all claiming that they have the only God, the fast track to God?

Taking the new line that discovery of new knowledge is interesting and growth inspiring, how do you keep your personal knowledge growing? How do you grow?

Is knowledge necessary to having faith, and what new direction can you go with this new growth period in connection to your personal God connection?

If asked by others how can you look at world religions? "How can you take the best of all and leave out the negatives? Speak about this please individually, each person having a say.

How can you look at world religions and see only love? What sort of filter do you use to see that no judgment of them takes place?

The essence of religious dogma has trapped many into confined thinking, and necessarily at times they will not tolerate intrusion into these boxes, how then can you change this closed aspect? or is it that reflection of individuals such as yourselves can open this fissure into which can pour new energy?

Its a complex problem once established religions have been formed upon one layer after another. Each forming what is perceived as religious dogma and belief.

How can you peel off the layers to find truths? and then how can this be shown to others?

Such books as the Da Vinci Code and others each provide a possible break in the mass consciousness. So how can this break be increased to allow in the flood of truth which needs to be revealed.

We are presenting you with these questions to enable you to look at this in every way possible. . . . seeing yourself as one trapped into a framework where your structured beliefs are formed for you, and then this insistence that you need an intermediary and a Hierarchy to keep you safe, in looking at this from a personal level it will help you to understand better how to approach this aspect.

There is much danger from releasing people from trapped thinking without having understanding of where that could lead them when free. So look also at how a new mass consciousness would operate in the months ahead if freed totally from the confines of their severe structure. Can you see the mayhem which would result if an immediate influx of energy came to open up all of humanity at once - gradual peeling away of the layers will need to be seen as essential. It has taken time to create the state now endured by millions of closed minded thinking, and although there has been a shift, the greater mass of humanity suffers this anomaly of not being free to think for themselves.

We the Masters who aid you seek your cooperation, to be patient and see every detail of this conundrum, and we together begin the process of shedding one by one these aspects which do not reflect truth. Number one on this list as I see it is the way the Sacred Feminine has been robbed of her power, and subjected to gross violation in the process of creating these religious dogmas now present.

We see give already in the fabric of time and space and this tightly woven fabric manipulated and formed not in love begins to loosen each time you meet, each time growth comes, every time an individual amongst you has an insight, or shifts, so too do you lift the whole, do you work as agents of love to release this fabric so tightly woven with mistruths as to suffocate the essence of love. Patience is needed, but such a love of the subject matter as to make you look at your own beliefs. . . an need to open up the box and allow in light.

We give you words to aid you in this process, but it takes brave souls to look at in depth at issues long since thought of as untouchable.

We do bless you for your efforts and we give you advise, look into avenues of religious intolerance over the coming weeks. Seek out those areas where you can see evidence of manipulation even now of society in subtle ways and note these down. Not with a need for judgment alone, but for truth to be seen. Silent are the pressures exerted upon the masses, and many are the exponents of this means of manipulation of humanity. Love is the key. Anytime that love is not the obvious motive, and there will be many of them. Find these aspects and seek out their source. Put aside judgment, just observance is needed.

How can growth come for the whole if love is made to suffer time and time again, so those who have power can retain such power if it is not truly gained and used by purity of action?

This then is your pathway in everyday, perceive and feel the subtle nuances which mould societies and Nations.
