

Sir Isaac Newton to the Group for May 2006

Discussion Group. 17/4/2006

Introductory discussion with VRC. . . .Comfort zones, repent of their sins, they feel better, but it doesn't take the responsibility or responsibility for their lives.

Isaac speaks.

Find a better way of wording it so- the real emphasis is on the Christ like, Muhammad like, Buddha like concept of feelings of being - being there as a part of a larger organism, a creation all are responsible for, and accountability is taken as fact and not even as a sin, but rather necessary lessons, and sometimes essential expressions of a growth that the soul knew was needed for a greater purpose and continuity to flow. Such as the conflict now as a division into new age thinkers, where there is often a skepticism of all belief systems which stem from religion, and those who come from a closed book stand - that every fact is true in the Holy books as written, and gives no understanding of the fallibility in those historical records. For this is what they are - historical records, some partly true, but most of all contaminated by the perceptions of those who bring their human skills to bare, and therefore present an already coloured vision.

What we seek is a simplistic way ( of unifying humanity ) all feel comfortable with, that embraces the best ideas of all belief systems. To simplify, to investigate, and pull apart the concepts, not with the intention to destroy, but to simplify and smooth out those highly coloured sections added to gain power.

Simple rules, but rules is not the correct wording, let me be more specific, to empower the fairer and more gentle aspect of femininity, to uphold the sacred feminine...To put power back equally into both the lives of male and females - to remove the stigmas and beliefs of evil, sinful women who have mislead men or mankind, put there by the devil. All these aspects are colourations placed by men, and then participated and perpetuated by men with the intention of holding the feminine, the Divine Feminine down.

This new belief system you are seeking entirely/ extremely simply codes of conduct or beliefs will empower all, and never strip power from anyone, but intentionally place a concept of God as accessible to all equally - simply by loving. By simply giving a way of slipping off the old coat of heavy energies and false illusions . . . one very much made by a patriarchal society. And instead take on the lighter, brighter coat of love, of harmony, and above all things non-judgment, non-violence, and with time to shift the consciousness of the masses by having this sinful approach replaced with an understanding all are empowered to choose and formulate a direction, but this direction is not given to you, you consciously work towards it every day.

The movement we will for now call LOVE, can and will aid humanity to shift, and therefore restore power to both genders, all races, all belief systems equally, and those who choose to embrace the old systems of rigidity, will gradually see they are coming from fear based thinking, of seeing only a defensive means of being. . . a closed vibrational belief system which excludes others, and gives one the feeling of superiority . . . not conducive to love. No! this new energetic vision of love will need to embrace all truths, all those genuine threads of wisdom, and beneath the dogma all have value.

This is the most profoundly important job anyone can do, to prepare the way for the present Christ, with a vibration of love going before Him, and when I say Him, I also mean His divine flame and counterpart, a concept many may find objection to, but God is the balance of male and female, all levels of existence have a Divine counterpart, and it is no different with the present, or to some coming Christ. Some will find objection to the (word) Christ, because it then separates and leaves them without a present or future religious icon to identify with. What we are suggesting seriously is that Christ be seen as an energy of Love conducive to healing all - to belong to all, but the old connotations of Christ being Jesus Christ the Son of God, the only son of God has therefore placed barriers there to healing the rift.

This is your dilemma, how to have all see Christ as belonging to all, to those who are presently Moslems - to Jews - to all belief systems. All have their exclusivity, they own a belief system others are excluded from. They need to be given a philosophy for living, where all are seen as equal. All given the thought they have a direct line to God, thus infuriating the Churches who will hold that you are all heretics and worse, for vowing to give love to all in Gods name.

No your job description should you choose nobly to accept this challenge, is to gradually work through the belief systems, psychologies and meanings. Break them down into simplicity, give the positives power, and take the negatives out. This way presenting the facts pure and simple, without human contamination of ego or power struggle, and hence this group as a reflection of this has no leader. No one in charge, but rather set the ideal to begin with, all will strive to replicate, how various individuals can come together with a common purpose. People from many walks of life, differing ages, genders and difficulties will come as surely as I am Isaac Newton.

Look at the attitude even in the group dynamics, and keep a vigilant watch to see no ego creeps in to corrupt the whole. No one is more important than any other, some have specific skills utilised for the greater good, but the aim is to have this group an example for the rest of the world, to show how love and need to aid the whole is the only motivating course.

You Beloved, have a job to do as facilitator of growth in others, and Kim as chief scribe and chairperson, but apart from that, this group should be motivated primarily by a need to speed humanity to a point of energies being harmonious to the one who will be the future Christ. The word Christ meaning .( Title, divine ruler, saviour, inspirer. )

You must look at terminologies so as to not inflame others anger and ignorance, and it won't be easy. In fact it will be quite a difficult to do, but it is possible, and any time any two of you get together and shift anything, there will be a shift, a relay goes out into the grid system and the magnitude of this shift will be that there is a major adjustment up in the mass consciousness. Thus allowing the masses to more easily slip off their old coat of learned consciousness, and many of the divisions will fade and slip away.

At the end of your consensus, you will have a jewel to present to the world, by way of internet, the web page you put together with working formulas - magnification of ideas placed into a structure all can see, evolve and grow from, and the finished product and a series of speakers chosen by us and by you. Those who have no ego attached to speak at length and go out. But to do this it will take organisational skills and knowledge of media, and all those with an interest and skills will come, and to the degree you hold open this space for others to come, so will it grow.

It is the most fundamentally important movement to come for some long time, and if you pull this rabbit out of the hat, you will have aided not hundreds of souls, but millions, and it would flow out to heal the rift in all countries, but not instantly would the conversion be for those locked into the boxes of fear. This fear makes them hit out and become insular, so they are not approachable, but the energetic changes, the vibrational changes will help this to happen. It is like the gentle warming of a planet, the ice melts, so vibrationally will the barriers, and the need to hold onto those barriers drop away.

Never before have we asked so much, and we are asking it of you.

The traditional belief systems may see you as revolutionaries who wish to destroy the house they built. Simply say, "No I wish to ease the way, so love heals the rift now felt".

It will take a great deal of thought, discussion, and research by all of you, and perhaps the greatest gift we can give you now is to say you can do it.

Long have you prepared for this task, and long have you thought this to be impossible, to strip away religious dogma, and just leave behind the essence of truth. All religions, all belief systems have truths . . . a simple God given truth given originally to one of favour, one who had the capacity to lead, but along the way, so many distortions to those original pure concepts have come.

The only outcome if not eased, this burden, will be wars and the perpetuation of hatred and intolerance. So there it is in a nut shell, so to speak.

Just remove the rough exterior and find the core, the simple truths from God - the concepts to aid the whole, and these are simple. They do not involve buildings and misguided beliefs that an intermediary is necessary. God asks you to do this through your own filtration system . . . that you seek out and find His original truths and give it a name. The concept 'Love' call it for now, but with time a vibrational name will come from God himself/herself and then the power of that word or words all will feel, for it will be God empowered, as He empowers you now to usher in this new age: the time of the true Christ Light.

So see this as our request, that you structure your days to find time daily to put together a basic framework, a working plan you are all comfortable with. See this as our pledge, as you struggle and try, so will we empower you with our skills and love, and let it be done. The challenge is given, uphold the Sacred Feminine, return her to her true place - a place not of shame and impurity, but such a God empowered Light she shines so beautifully for all to see.

"Goddess Awareness" you said some time ago, you created a business name "Goddess Awareness" let this be an aspect from which you send forth your information also. Give it power. You have not yet become aware of why you needed to create "Goddess Awareness", now you will find out, and when you do, so to will the world feel the power, the true power of the Goddess.

So long has the Sacred Feminine been placed in such a shameful light. Restore her image, and give to us, those who have struggled throughout history to hold sway over opposition, help us restore the purity and vision of the Goddess, and I promise you, we who have held this position as protectors of the feminine will come to your defence.

Create the "Goddess Awareness" aspect, and place Kim as director of operations, and Anne and Michelle to aid her. It hasn't come to you of what we speak, but it will come soon, and through this group you will find such a direction obvious.

The Goddess needs a voice, and she needs it in you. You are the voice of the Goddess, accept this as our request, and leave the rest to us. Put this to this discussion group my words, and with time all will be revealed. It is just the start, but such power is afforded you, just take it and use it wisely without fear, but protective that no corruption enters anywhere that can be used to disempower.

It is a call to arms on behalf of the Goddess - the Sacred Feminine, that I give this message. Be the Goddess you are. This entire message give to others at the next meeting. It is an outline of what is needed. I am Isaac Newton, and I will say Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord God of Hosts. Take this challenge and grow, and you will be provided for. Be very vigilant to keep a pure space. It is so important it be done.
